Halo UniverseTolkien Universe crossover challenge!

Greetings, fellow travelers! This challenge goes out to any who might read this, but it especially goes out to people who are currently following and kinda "enjoying" my 'Stranger in a Strange Land' story. The challenge is the following:

If you like Halo and the world of Tolkien as much as I do then I challenge you to write your own crossover! Use your imagination! Any character you like or create, any situation, short story, narrative, full novel-type story. Let your creative juices flow! I will be arriving home on the 4th of October and not long after that I'm continuing my own story! Until then, my friends, start writing and PM me your own crossovers! I am very interested in reading them!

All of you have a wonderful day!
